

Mr. Tripp, "The photographer in your town."

Suggests—

That little girl or boy of yours—They'll soon be having their hair "done up" or the curls cut off, and too, they will be out growing their childish ways—and you haven't had their picture taken since they were in long dresses.

You don't exactly want to keep them as they are—but you do want to keep their memory. Photograph them today.

STUDENTS OF O. H. S. HAVE NUMBER OF RESOLVES

At the assembly in the high school this morning a set of resolutions were presented to the school, but they were tables. This afternoon the students assembled again and it was unanimously determined that none of the professors of the school should take part in the deliberations. However, Prof. A. A. Kerr of the German department presided over the deliberations, simply as a matter of discipline.

The assembly this afternoon was creditable, some of the students exhibiting eloquence in their utterances. Resolutions previously prepared were passed by a unanimous vote.

The great question was whether the school had been misrepresented in an editorial in the Standard of last Saturday. Some considered that the criticism was not meant to cast a reflection on the students, but that it was a question up to the faculty to see to it that the Ogden high school had competent teachers. It was said by one student that it was the desire of the school that the impression not go out that "we are in cahoots with Superintendent Mills" and that the resolutions speak for the student body, the professors having no say in the matter.

One student stated that the Standard had been in the habit of antagonizing the school and that he was certain it would keep it up until "it gets stepped on." Another student immediately arose and inquired "who is going to do the stepping act?" He continued by saying that both papers had criticized the school methods and that the result of an attempt to "step on" one paper would lead to a controversy between the two and that the results to the school would not be beneficial.

A number of students said that the editorial in question came likely from consideration of entanglements between the school board and the superintendent, which are political in a sense and that to further agitate it would lead the school farther into the entanglement. They were of the opinion that criticism did not hurt if it were based on facts, and one high school girl said she thought there was considerable truth in the editorial.

"They say we are not making good," she said, "and we are not."

An idea prevailed that if the Standard does not prove its assertion or make a retraction, the students should meet again tomorrow and get ready to do something sharp. To this proposition the question was asked, "What are we to do about it. We have no one to make a fight for us. We can ask the Standard to correct the mistake, if one has been made, but I don't see how we are going to put the paper out of business if it makes no explanation or retraction."

After the resolutions had passed, it was determined that the resolutions should go to the Standard for publication before any other paper and they were immediately turned over to a Standard reporter, who was present.

Resolution From Students of the Ogden High School.

"Due to existing conditions, we have decided that unjust criticism has been made of Ogden High School in regard to graduates.

"Whereas, there is no truth in the statement made by the Ogden Standard, issued Saturday, January 8, in regard to the scholarship and standing of Ogden High School graduates in the University of Utah, which says: "Graduates of the Ogden High School are such a splendid school system, why is it that the graduates of the Weber Stake Academy have no trouble keeping up with their studies in the University of Utah while almost all the Ogden High school graduates at the University must hire extra tutors and even then there are failures?"

"Whereas, we feel that the Ogden Standard is prejudiced against the Ogden High school.

"Whereas, the Ogden High school is held in esteem by all schools in the United States including the University because of the high standing of the graduates in these schools.

"Therefore, be it resolved by the student body in assembly that we do hereby condemn any attack on this institution and call upon the Standard to furnish a statement in support of its accusations from the authorities of the University of Utah.

"Furthermore, we invite and welcome any comparison between the standing of graduates in any educational institution in the United States of the Ogden High school and any other secondary school in the state.

"Furthermore, we invite any constructive criticism by anyone who has the interest of the Ogden High school at heart."

The Standard does not object to the students standing up for themselves. Whatever reflection was cast was on the system, not the pupils of the schools.

MILLS' MACHINE NOW OILING UP FOR SERVICE

Indications Are That Supt. Mills Will Not Resign Without a Fight—Preparing to Get Public Opinion on His Side by Working Through Students and Parents of Ogden.

The school children, women societies, parents' classes, etc., etc., are to be called to the aid of Supt. J. M. Mills. There is to be a gathering of people, the like of which has never been witnessed, intended to aid Supt. Mills in making a big impression on the people of Ogden and especially on the school board. The Mills machine is being oiled and a fight is promised by the Mills that will make the school board members tremble in their shoes. Friends of Mills everywhere seem to be active, while his opponents seem to be asleep. An Anti-Mills fellow was bold enough to say in the words of General Kitchener "Mills has shot his wad."

The people, however, need not be surprised if the Mills machine turns all the teachers and students out to make a demonstration in behalf of Mr. Mills, as the latter has an organization that will work like "greased lightning." But will it strike terror into the hearts of the members of the school board?

CUTTING DOWN THE NUMBER OF THE DEPUTIES

The county board of commissioners today appointed Miss Ella F. O'Neill deputy recorder to succeed Mrs. Elda Guerin was made on the recommendation of Recorder Angus Berlin. It being understood that one deputy would be dispensed with as soon as possible.

Not long ago the county board decided on a policy of retrenchment and requested that the recorder dispense with one deputy. The county clerk was requested to get along with a reduction of deputies and the sheriff was required to have one less deputy. However, Mr. Berlin explained to the board today that he was a little behind in the work of the office and could not well dispense with a deputy at this time.

Bids for the construction of an isolation hospital for the county north of the city were received and will be given due consideration. There were ten bids for the construction work on the building and two were presented for the plumbing.

RECEIVES NEWS OF BROTHER'S DEATH

William Jenkinson, brother of George Jenkinson, a mechanic employed at the local Southern Pacific shops, has been killed in action, "somewhere in France," according to a brief telegram received by the Ogden man, a relative, either his mother or one of two brothers, who are in England. The dead man was a British soldier and had been on the firing line in France several months.

The telegram announcing his death was as follows: "While killed in action. Do nothing until you hear from me. (Signed) JENKINSON."

FARM BUREAU HAS NEW COMMITTEES

With a view to accomplishing better results, the county farm bureau directors Saturday afternoon decided to hold a meeting in Ogden every two weeks and to more completely consolidate the committee work it was determined to have four parts committees.

Department of production, embracing consideration of soils, irrigation, drainage, weeds, seeds selection, cultivation, farm management, institutes and dairying.

Department of Finance consisting of financing, credit and legislation.

Department of distribution, including consideration of markets, buying and selling and transportation.

Miscellaneous, embracing taxation, paper, headquarters, fair grounds and county physician.

A member of the committee selected to consider the question of the county board of commissioners and the county school board joining in the employment of a physician to look after the health of the school children as well as the indigent poor, reported that the plan is favored, and a conference will be held with both boards.

SALT PROPERTY IS BEING WORKED

R. K. Cobb, general manager of the Capell Salt Company, an Ogden visitor today, has his new venture in taking over the operation of the Ogden company's property as, according to experts, the salt now being turned out is equal if not superior to any in the country. The salt beds are located about 112 miles west of Salt Lake City, on the line of the Western Pacific.

The Capell company, Mr. Cobb stated in the course of a conversation, is well pleased with its new venture in taking over the operation of the Ogden company's property as, according to experts, the salt now being turned out is equal if not superior to any in the country. The salt beds are located about 112 miles west of Salt Lake City, on the line of the Western Pacific.

ROBBERY CASE IS BEING HEARD

In Judge Harris' division of the district court this morning, in the case of the state against Frank Smith, George Wetherington and Frank Katers, charged with robbery, Smith and Wetherington pleaded not guilty and Attorney R. IPSON.—Hans Peter Ipsen succumbed yesterday morning at his residence, 576 Seventh street. Death was attributed to valvular disease of the heart and though he had been ill a year, death was unexpected. The deceased, who was one of Ogden's well-known citizens, was born at Bornholm, Denmark, November 23, 1843, the son of Peter and Karen Michelson Ipsen. He was converted to the doctrine of Mormonism in Denmark, in 1868, and three years later emigrated to Utah. He located at Ogden and has made this city his home continuously ever since. On September 23, 1872, Mr. Ipsen was married to Emma F. Mystrom at Salt Lake City, who, with the following children survive him: Mrs. Hilda Nordquist of Ogden and Michael P. Ipsen of Blackfoot, Idaho, the latter now being on a mission to the western states. Mrs. Emma McDonald of Ogden, and Mrs. Ellen Comelof of Sacramento, Cal., and Mrs. Elizabeth Butler of Ogden. Seventeen grandchildren also survive. Mr. Ipsen held the office of a high priest in the Mormon church and had always been known as an active church worker. By profession he was a contractor and builder. The funeral will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, in the Eighth ward chapel, Bishop W. W. Rawson presiding, and interment will be in the city cemetery. The body may be viewed at the residence tomorrow afternoon.
